THE TRUSTEE'S MEETING

Lots of People Interested in the Proposed Chicken Ordinance

CITY HALL CROWDED

With Men and Women Who Keep Chickens. Bids for Fire Engine Opened

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on Thursday evening, all members present with the exception of Mr. Webster. Mr. Webster was there for a few minutes, but was forced to leave.

The room was packed with men and women interested in the proposed "chicken ordinance." It was shown unmistakably that the Sentinel is read in Tropico, and that it pays to advertise.

Two weeks ago this ordinance was presented for passage. The ordinance offered being a drastic one, it was decided to give the matter careful consideration, and in order that this might be done the ordinance was held over for two weeks, and it was suggested that the Sentinel call attention to same and to notify those who desired to be present last Thursday to present their views.

This the Sentinel did, with the result that there were more people in attendance at last Thursday's meeting than at any previous meeting in the history of the Board.

Mayor Bancroft stated that the trustees would be glad to hear from those who desired to address the Board, whereupon Dr. Mabry stated that he had drafted an amended ordinance and asked permission to read same before the subject was discussed in general. This permission was granted, and Dr. Mabry read his draft, which provides that one may keep any number of chickens on a lot, provided the poultryman obtains the consent of the abutting property owners and maintains the poultry yard in a clean and sanitary manner. A like provision obtains in reference to keeping horses.

It was explained by Dr. Mabry that it was not the desire of the health department to work a hardship on anyone, but it was absolutely necessary to have some authority for dealing with a case like the one at Christopher and Columbus, which is said to be a neighborhood nuisance. The ordinance was fully discussed by practical poultrymen, and a number of suggestions were made, and it was finally decided that an ordinance embodying these suggestions and at the same time conferring sufficient authority on the health officer should be drafted and presented to the Board for passage at the next meeting.

All bids for the fire engine were opened, and the three companies bidding were the American La Frank Fire Engine Company, which made a bid of $9,500; the Knox Automobile Company, through its representatives, the Vance-Canavan Company of Los Angeles, submitting a bid of $9,175; and the Seagrave Company, which submitted two bids, one of their type D engine, a rotary style pump, for $7,500, and their type Q, which comes nearer to the specifications advertised, for $9,750.

These bids were referred to the committee as a whole, and the representatives of the bidding companies were informed that they would be given an opportunity of presenting the merits of their respective engines at the next meeting of the Board, on Thursday, the 25th.

Dr. Mabry, in behalf of the Civic Club, called the attention of the Board of Trustees to the weed nuisance, and asked if the Board could not work with the Civic Club in cutting the weeds throughout the city. After discussing this matter, it was decided by the Board that they should do everything within their power that they could do by law to have all weeds in the city cut, and instructed the City Attorney to prepare such an ordinance and have it ready for the next meeting of the Board, and to make the ordinance as far-reaching as possible.

LUMBER COMPANY CHANGES HANDS.

The Tropico Lumber Company has been purchased by the Tropico-Glendale Lumber Company, a new concern recently incorporated, with F. J. Wheeler as director and president, Frances J. Wheeler secretary, treasurer and director and Dan Campbell, director.

Mr. F. J. Wheeler will be manager, and expects to make the Tropico Glendale Lumber Company one of the leading concerns in this section of the state. Mr. Wheeler came to Glendale in 1907 as general Pacific coast agent for the Salt Lake Railway. He states that a full and complete stock of everything pertaining to a modern, up-to-date lumber yard will be added just as fast as it can be secured, and it is the intention of the company to maintain at all times ample stock of well-selected lumber and building material to meet every demand.

THE CONTEST CLOSES

MARTHA CRAMER

Is the Lucky Winner. A Most Popular and Deserving Young Lady. Miss Stella Spears Wins Second Prize

The happiest girl in Tropico last Saturday evening was Miss Martha Cramer, the winner of the elegant $375 piano in the Sentinel's popularity contest.

The contest was in doubt up to the very last. So close was the race between Miss Cramer and Mrs. Spears that the first count of the tellers gave the piano to Mrs. Spears, but a subsequent count showed that an error had been made and the second count gave the piano to Miss Cramer.

The Sentinel has but one regret. It wishes it could give a piano to each one of the contestants who took part in this exceptionally clean-cut, good-natured contest.

During the last week the strain was quite telling on all of the contestants, and it would be almost unreasonable not to expect more or less rumors to gain circulation, but each one of these rumors was immediately run down by the Sentinel force, and like 999 rumors out of 1,000 when chased to the lair prove to be very innocent. We believe that it would be impossible to hold a contest where the interest was taken, as in this one, and where there was less questionable acts, than in this. The contestants themselves, as well as their friends, positively refused to take advantage of their opponents in any way. As an indication, two instances may be cited that came under the observation of the Sentinel force that shows the spirit in this race.

Charley Hapgood, uncle of Mrs. Spear and one of her strongest workers, found a bunch of blank votes, and he having reason to believe they had been lost by the Davis Grocery Company voluntarily returned these votes. He could have used these for Mrs. Spear and no one would have been the wiser.

Late Saturday afternoon, when the contestants and their friends were bending every effort to secure every possible vote, Miss Cramer was offered some votes by a lady, who remarked that she had been saving them for Mrs. Spear, but that Mrs. Spear had not come for them, and Miss Cramer refused to accept these votes.

Similar incidents could be mentioned of practically every contestant. Each one seemed to be imbued with the desire to treat their opponents as they would have their opponents treat them.

Judging from the expression of approval of every section of the city, no girl could have received the piano that would have met with more general approval than

LAYING CORNER STONE

A Very Simple and Impressive Ceremony by Local Methodists

MEMBERS PROUD

Of Their New Home Which Will be Rushed to Completion Located as Soon as Possible

For the past fifteen years it has been the dream and hope of the members of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Tropico to erect a handsome new church edifice commensurate with the rapid growth and prosperity of this church, which is the oldest Methodist Episcopal church in this valley, and Sunday afternoon the dream became a realization, became a fact, and the joy and happiness of Rev. S. W. Carnes and his congregation culminated when the cornerstone of this new church edifice was laid with great solemnity. The exercises consisted of an interesting program rendered by clergymen and laymen, and marked the event as one long to be remembered.

Miss Gladys Oghorn rendered an instrumental solo; Rev. J. N. Roberts of Glendora read the Opening Declaration; Rev. J. H. Henry read the hymn, after which Rev. Henry Goodsell offered prayer; anthem by the church choir, Miss Helena Morgan presiding at the organ; reading the 132d Psalm by Rev. J. H. Humphrey of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Glendale; choir and congregation chanted "Gloria Patri," after which Rev. C. B. Hatch of the First Presbyterian Church of Tropico read from the Scriptures. The address was delivered by Dr. Will A. Knighten of Los Angeles, who has been recently appointed chaplain at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtell by President Wilson. As Rev. Mr. Knighten ascended the pulpit the congregation gave the deeply beloved pastor the Chautauqua salute. As Dr. Knighten stood under the folds of Old Glory, which has always found a conspicuous place in the church here at Tropico, his address teemed with true religious zeal and loyal patriotism for his country and his country's emblem.

Following the address Dr. Knighten laid the cornerstone, which is a handsome block of gray granite, and was presented to the church by Mrs. Henry Goodsell in memory of her son, who passed away in the city of Oakland, Cal., in the year 1879. In the receptacle that was sealed in the cornerstone was a copy of the Bible, church discipline, hymnal, church history, documents, church membership and a photograph of the young son of Mrs. Goodsell. The simple inscription on the cornerstone, "Erected A. D. 1913," conveys to all the beauty of this piece of granite.

The audience sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" as the beautiful block was slowly and reverently laid in place by Dr. Knighten. Rev. C. B. Hatch pronounced the benediction, and, following the singing of the doxology, the program closed.

AN ALL-DAY MEETING. The September "all-day" meeting of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. will be held on Friday, the 26th. Having the promise of pleasant weather, it is expected that this will be one of the overflow meetings. The usual 15c dinner will be served at 12, and the program will begin at 1 o'clock.

Maj. J. J. Weiler, who attended the National Encampment of the G. A. R. at Chattanooga, was greatly pleased with the reception given the "old boys in blue," and writes that this was one of the greatest encampments ever held. He is now visiting at the home of his son, who lives in Johnson City, Tenn., where the Mountain Branch of the National Soldiers' Home is located.

Comrade D. L. Durand of Los Angeles will be present and deliver his address on the battle of Gettysburg. Comrade is a fine talker and this address promises to be exceptionally interesting.

them provisions in the way of cake from the larder of Mrs. Hamilton (baked for Sunday dinner) and melons from Mrs. Hough's melon patch. After many unsuccessful attempts they finally retired to beds made on the hardwood floors and slept the sleep of the just.

THE BULL AND THE BULLOCK.

Although Ursus, the giant, took the bull by the horns and ground his nose in the dust, while Tropico took the Bullock by the tail and swung him in the air, the results in both cases were the same—both Bull and Bullock got licked. All of which is preliminary to stating that Bullocks replaced the W. W. D. Co. team in Sunday's game against Tropico and were effectively and completely shut out.

The visitors shaped up well in the early part of the game and for a while it looked as if the local boys had their work cut out for them, but once having solved the Grecian bend of Pitcher Hartman they soon took a comfortable lead and were never overtaken. Several times the Bullock boys had things all framed up to score, and were only prevented by "Hasty's Habit." You know, Hasty Bidwell has a habit of getting the bases full and with none down fans out the next three men. Nice work, and it fits in with "Jew's" work in right field. Bradford has been playing sand-lot ball recently, but he gathered in a couple of almost impossible flies that should be entitled the "Redemption of the Jew."

Right here we want to state that one Brooks of the Bullocks team is welcome here at any old time. He played a losing game like a winner and kept up a running fire of repartee with Captain Sisney that won the crowd and was really refreshing in contrast with the "crab stuff" we are used to. The thrillers were a double play by Bidwell, Rich and Gabaig, a two-bagger by Daniels and Bradford's catches aforementioned. Fred Spear is batting strong these days and got four hits out of five times at bat.

The usual large crowd was in attendance and as usual went away satisfied. Next Sunday Tropico plays Glendale on the Tropico grounds.

A BIG ENTERTAINMENT

The Carnival of all Nations a Pretty and Attractive Exhibit

MUSICAL PROGRAM

One Long to be Remembered Appropriate Costumes Lend Pleasing Effects

The Carnival of All Nations, held Friday evening by the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club, was a success in every particular. The ladies of the club not only worked faithfully to make a success of this, the first public entertainment of theirs, but demonstrated high ability in handling different problems that presented themselves in such an undertaking.

The dinner served by the ladies was enjoyed by over 200, and it is estimated that fully as many more could have been fed if the facilities would have permitted. One thing connected with this dinner is that none of the ladies was called upon to contribute anything. Everything was purchased in the raw and prepared. This department was under the management of Mrs. Dan Campbell, who proved exceptionally capable and efficient, and many were the words of commendation as to the manner in which every detail was promptly looked after. Mrs. Campbell and her assistants were dressed to represent Dutch girls.

The different booths were an attractive feature of the entertainment, and held large and joyous crowds at all times. The Japanese booth was presided over by Mrs. P. O. Pulliam; the Spanish booth by Mrs. Dr. Jesse Russell; the Fortune Teller booth by Mrs. R. W. Meeker; the Colonial booth by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones; the Iceland booth by Miss Alice Frank; the booth of Uncle Sam by Richard Todd.

Prizes of $5 each were offered by the Glendale merchants for the best costumes, and these prizes were won by Mrs. Meeker, as the Hungarian Gypsy Queen; Miss Barbara Mitchell, as Japanese girl, and Miss Frances Zerr, as the Icelandic girl.

The judges were Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, Mr. E. C. Frank and the Rev. Willisford.

The Baby Show had 35 entries and received nine prizes.

Probably the most enjoyable feature of the whole entertainment.

THANKS AND MORE THANKS.

Sentinel:
I wish to thank the Sentinel force and through you the dear friends who loyally assisted me in the contest.

From all I received universal courtesy and one of the greatest joys I have connected with the contest is the kindness shown to me by both friends and strangers. I wish I could personally see each one of you and tell you how thankful and how glad I am. I shall ever remember the Sentinel and the dear friends who so kindly and so loyally assisted me to gain this handsome piano.

Respectfully,
Martha Cramer.

THANKS TO FRIENDS.

I wish to thank the Sentinel for the courtesy shown me during the contest, and through the Sentinel I would like to thank my many friends who gave me their loyal support. The kindness and words of encouragement which greeted me will always remain a pleasant memory. MRS. FRED SPEAR.

HOLD PICNIC.

The Eastern Star and the Masonic Lodge held a basket picnic Saturday afternoon at Griffith Park. About 100 were in attendance, and the afternoon and evening were spent in games and just "resting."

VISOR LODGE ENTERTAINS

Visor Lodge, K. of P., entertained the Pythian Congress and many visiting Knights Monday evening in Castle Hall. Lunch was served and several good talks made. The opening address was made by Robert G. Loucks of Los Angeles. Mr. J. W. Hibbert responded for the lodge.

Francis Booth sang several of his songs to hearty applause, and Dr. P. J. Rudy of Los Angeles, president of the Pythian Congress, gave an interesting talk on the work of the Congress. Mr. Frank H. Davis gave a talk on the practical benefits of Pythianism and stated that it was his idea that the first object of every lodge should be to befriend and assist worthy brothers.

Mr. Hibbert gave an exhibition of stereopticon high-art pictures.

Yes, we are going to have a good fall and winter and the country is not going to the demerit bow-wows just because we have a new tariff and going to have a new currency law and Bryan prefers grape juice to bourbon.

The genial E. R. Pirtle is opposing the proposition for Glendale and Tropic to acquire possession of the Verdugo water. It's not hard to understand why the patriotic gentleman takes the position he does. Some inconsiderate people have been so thoughtless and rude as to make the assertion that Mr. Pirtle has hopes of, in time, having the full use and enjoyment of this water. It's very rude, however, for these people to make such statements.

LET'S CUT THE WEEDS!

The committee appointed by the Civic Club to get after the weeds in the city has commenced work as if they meant to do something. Dr. Mabry, chairman of the committee, took the matter up with the Board of Trustees Thursday evening, with the result that the City Attorney was instructed to prepare at once an ordinance covering this nuisance and to make it as far-reaching as the law will allow. The trustees promised to do everything within their power to aid in this work. This ordinance will be drawn to conform to the law passed at the last session of the State Legislature, and every effort made to reach those who wilfully or negligently refuse to cut the weeds on their vacant lots. In the meantime the Civic Club committee is going ahead and making arrangements to start the work at once, collecting in funds to defray the expense. W. E. Edwards has started his mower and will push the work as fast as possible. Dr. Duncan, one of the committee, stated that in just a little time he collected $7 by voluntary subscription for this work, and that he only encountered two who refused to give. Let's all help. It's such a little matter, but means so much to our city. These weeds are not only unsightly, but are actually a menace. At any day fire is liable to get out in some patch of weeds, and, with our present water system, who knows where such a fire would end? Then, again, the weeds detract from and actually depreciate the value of property in the city. Allowing the weeds to grow and stand as they do lays us all liable to charges of being lazy, shiftless and onery. There is not one of us who, if we should visit a town as a stranger and see weeds overrunning everything as they do here, but would express our opinion of such town in very uncomplimentary terms. Strangers are doing this very thing at this time of us.

Twenty-five or fifty cents a lot will clear the city of these weeds. The committee, which is composed of Dr. Wm. Mabry, Dr. Duncan, C. E. Nickerson, Frank B. McKinney and Wayland Brown, will accept contributions from all those desiring to assist in this work, or you may hand your contribution in to the Sentinel office.

Don't be bashful, niggardly, stingy or onery. Let's cut the weeds.

The committee requests every one to make Saturday, September 27th, "General Clean-up Day." Don't forget to do your part.

The Sentinel starts this fund with $1.00.

AN INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE

Many of the Christian Scientists of this valley attended the series of three lectures on Christian Science delivered in Los Angeles last Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon, by Judge Clifford P. Smith, S. S. B., of Brookline, Mass., a member of the authorized Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The lectures were extremely interesting and well delivered. Large audiences greeted the speaker at every lecture. He said, in part:

"Christian Science has come to discover and repeat what Jesus knew and taught; to revive his original teaching; to restore the scope and complete the mission of primitive Christianity; to be that 'spirit of truth' which he foretold and promised. For every person in this world it has a plain, practical message that means freedom and happiness and the fullness of life.

"Christian Science is not something invented by Mrs. Eddy; it was unfolded to Mrs. Eddy and expressed by her in the manner described by the Master in his prophecy of the Comforter: 'He shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak.' In this way Mrs. Eddy has been the means of giving to the world the science of God and His universe, including man, and especially this science as applied to humanity. It declares the one divine Principle of the universe, separates the error from the truth in human thought, furnishes the scientific method by which divine law is available in the case of every human need, and shows how evil can be overcome and abolished.

"Mrs. Eddy never sought a personal following. Throughout her work as the leader of a great religious movement she consistently turned the attention of Christian Scientists away from herself to the message from God to men which was spoken through her. Her aim and hope, as she often said, were to 'quicken and increase the beneficial effects of Christianity' (Science and Health, page 367; Miscellaneous Writings, page 207). The spiritual vitality of her message is proved by what it has already accomplished; but this is only a foretaste of the benefits that will accrue to humanity as this science is more widely understood and practiced. "To the wise of this time Christian Science healing is the sign of man's complete dominion over evil. It signifies that no ill or evil—no harmful event or condition—is either lawful or natural; none is inevitable; none but what can be overcome with the law and power of God. Christian Science simply makes practical the ideal of worship and service set forth by Isaiah: 'To loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke.'

"Christ Jesus once said: 'Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.' In other words, that only is real and enduring of which God is the author. All evil, whether called moral, mental or physical, is illusory, destructible, and unreal because it is contrary to the nature of the only cause and creator. This is the basis on which true healing is accomplished; therefore every case of healing wrought by the divine Principle on which Christian Science is founded not only gives reason for hope in other cases, but it advances the time when the last vestige of evil will be expelled from human experience and the great Teacher's declaration will be fulfilled."

ment was the musical program, which was an especially high-class performance. A violin serenade by Moskowsky was rendered by Miss Martha Porter, a Glendale girl, who received much hearty and spontaneous applause. The song by Mr. Harry Girard, the well-known basso of Los Angeles, was truly musical and most enjoyable. Mr. Girard sang "Dear Little Maid," from the "San Toy" opera. His charming wife, a lyric

The officials of the Sunset Telephone Company have assured the Sentinel that the officials of the company in Southern California are doing everything within their power to remedy the local telephone situation; that they are estimating the local problem from the standpoint of the future; that already they have seen the utility of building just for today, in as much that when the addition to the Richardson tract was made it was expected to serve for at least ten or twelve years, but that in less than two the service is taxed beyond its capacity. The company says it is considering the Angeles Tract, Angelus Park, Glassel Park and Atwater as a whole, and it may be the engineers will advise the installation of a separate exchange to care for this territory. It may be cheaper to maintain a separate exchange than to run the cables into the Glendale exchange. The local officials will make no definite promise as to when the people will get 'phones, but are positive in their assertions that they are doing and will do all within their power to give the needed relief. The Sentinel has no desire to be unfair to the telephone companies and shall accept as made in good faith the statements of the officials and shall confidently look forward to an early solution of the problem. The company says it will cheerfully refund all deposits made to them in the past, if such refund is desired. Of course this applies only to cases where 'phones have not been installed.

WATER AND ANNEXATION

Burbank has been interested in the water question for a long time and after giving the matter much consideration voted bonds and took over the privately owned plant, and added needed improvements. The Burbank Review in speaking of this matter in a recent editorial, says:

"Nearly all towns of Southern California desire to increase their water supply and after a full investigation of the municipal water question, all are satisfied that the latter system is the best for the people. Many of the towns are preparing to follow the course taken by Burbank and vote bonds for a municipal water system and have called elections therefor. The Los Angeles aqueduct water supply is being brought forward as a public factor. But in order to get a permanent right to this water all territory should become a part of the city of Los Angeles. There is grave doubt as to the legality of Los Angeles selling this water to any person unless he be a resident and taxpayer of the city of Los Angeles. Here is what the Sierra Madre News says about it:

"What about those Sierra Madre people who objected to voting water bonds on the plea that we would soon obtain aqueduct water from Los Angeles cheaper than we could develop water locally? Of course it was only an excuse for the moment. But can anybody tell when Los Angeles will be ready to deliver water to outside territory? One fact which has long been patent is being driven gradually into the skulls of some who have refused to see it. Namely, Los Angeles cannot sell aqueduct water outside of her city limits without the hazard of legal complications which the city officials do not care to risk. What's the answer? Just what a great many of us predicted long ago—annexation as the first preliminary to securing aqueduct water. The Los Angeles council is considering a resolution for the appointment of a commission to 'investigate' the question of the outside territory which is seeking water. The Municipal News, supposedly owned by Councilman Reed, says: 'What is the best plan for selling water outside the city limits? Don't do it. Annex the territory and sell the water inside the city limits.' Now, so far as the water alone is concerned the proposal is perhaps fair enough. But the present laws governing annexation, do not provide a square deal for the outlying territory. Therefore, it will probably be a long while before Los Angeles will be able to annex enough territory to bring aqueduct water within reach of Sierra Madre. Wherein lies proof of the wisdom of Sierra Madre in going ahead independently with the work of municipalizing the local supply."

soprano, sang "Moon Song," from "Mikado," and received the hearty applause of the audience. Mr. Herman W. West, dressed in a regular Chauncey Olcott make-up, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen," from Crouch, and his rich baritone never showed to better advantage. Mr. West is always a favorite, and added new laurels on this occasion. His American Indian song, "The White Dawn," sang in an American Indian costume, was not only beautiful, but strikingly realistic. Mr. West has a knack of making up well, and his looks and physique made him an ideal Indian.

Probably nothing gave more pleasure during the evening than did the Italian songs by Mrs. William H. West, dressed as a Neapolitan boy, as well as her East Indian songs and dressed as an East Indian princess. Mrs. West is a lyric soprano with a marked range and compass, and her vivacious personality fitted well into the parts assumed, and many and sincere were the compliments she received, both as to her excellent singing and exceptionally tasty make-up.

The ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon Club feel especially grateful for the courtesy extended them by the Board of Trustees of the city, as well as all of the city officials, as they not only had the grounds wired, but furnished police for the regulation of the traffic in front of the carnival grounds.

The Kingsbury---

A Convincing Piano at a Convincing Price

THE KINGSBURY PIANO
is an appeal to your intelligence as well as your purse.

That is why specialists whose life work is designing draft the patterns from which we select our new styles.

For this reason the handsome Mahoganies, Burl Walnut and Quartered Oak are given extra finishing coats with materials that cost 50 per cent more than those almost universally used.

When you test the tone quality of this instrument, do more than strike powerful chords in the bass—test the higher notes. Where most pianos are thin, the Kingsbury has resonance and singing quality. You can't fail to notice it.

HEALTH OFFICER'S TALKS NO. 11.

It seems to be an attribute of the majority to jump to conclusions. Possibly this fact is due to the intensely active life the American people live, possibly also to the self-confidence they have gained in many years of successful effort.

Few seem to care to give up time and effort to work any problem to the best possible solution. It is no doubt easier to accept the first answer which appears satisfactory to the individual personally.

Those to whom are delegated authority cannot allow themselves any such easy method of dealing with the problems which affect the public. Should they do so it would be a short time only until their usefulness and standing would be lost. The same thing holds true in listening to complaints. One cannot allow anything but hard facts to influence his judgment and any decision based on personal desire, "I will, spite or 'hobby' cannot stand the test of time and practice.

Every citizen should carefully consider each proposition brought up for the betterment of the city on its merits. A hasty reading and snap-judgment on a measure is an injustice from every standpoint.

Take time and study, without heat or selfishness, what is the best and most just thing for all the people, what is best for the future and then talk it over with your friends and those responsible for general conditions in a friendly and tolerant spirit. Above all things don't stir up feeling and ill will. The greatest and best results are obtainable only through co-operation with the single object, the greatest good for the greatest number. Wm. C. MABRY, Health Officer. Tropic, Sept. 24th, 1913.

ADVICE ON A LIGHT SUBJECT.

By J. E. H.

Never go within thirty feet of a gasoline tank or receptacle having that gas in it with a lighted lamp, lantern, candle or match, or you will make a danger of it exploding.

A man exploded, his tank of many gallons, burned his house and injured himself by going near the tank with a lighted lantern the other week.

The insurance companies state that gasoline in a closed room, even to the small extent of a pint, will explode if artificial light is within thirty feet of it, and that this fact has been proven many times.

What must be the danger when there are many gallons and artificial light is brought anywhere near it, whether in a closed room or not, for the greater the quantity the more gas is given off in vaporous state.

The well-known insurance companies are generally very lenient in computing and paying damages, but if a person insured contributes to the fire, explosion or damage by his carelessness understood beforehand, no insurance company is liable to that extent, for it is the plain duty of every man or woman to do all they can to avert trouble of that kind by taking proper precautions.

No excuse can be accepted for going into danger by using an artificial light anywhere near such a volatile product as gasoline, by opening a vessel containing it with such light in proximity, no matter for what urgent purpose the gas is desired.

Another point to be considered is the danger to neighbors by any carelessness, which in many cases are great and frequent, loss of property, danger to life and even loss of it are some of the terrible tolls paid by criminal carelessness.

The immense forest fires, such as there have been in the past few weeks in Los Angeles County, which have caused immense loss to government and private property, ranches to be burned, homes destroyed, years of savings by private parties wiped out in a day, domestic and wild animals killed, watersheds ruined of the growth, thousands of acres of growth destroyed in trees, and the expense and labor needed to stop the ravages of that fearful monster, fire, are the results of what?

Some person's criminal carelessness in throwing a lighted match in the weeds by the roadside, making a campfire and failing to fully extinguish it, throwing away a lighted cigarette in the dry brush, or many a reason similar, and these half criminals believe they are good citizens of this beautiful state, but, very far from it, for all they can think of is their own selfish ends, the same reasoning applying to the same degree whether it is a railroad or other corporation that is a cause of fire to surrounding property by lack of proper precautions, a single camper, or a private individual in any walk of life who by his carelessness or lack of preventive measures causes such losses and dangers, for no one can live to himself or be so utterly centered in his own desires and requirements as to ignore or even forget the rights of others, and as time passes community rights and precautions will have to be more strictly observed, for the people will demand them.

THE HOUSE OF LIFE.
Ella Wheeler Wilcox.
All wondering and eager-eyed, within her portico,
I made my plea to Hostess Life, one morning long ago.

"Pray show me this great house of thine, nor close a single door;
But let me wander where I will, and climb from floor to floor,
For many rooms and curious things, and treasures great and small,
Here in this spacious mansion lie, and I would see them all."

Then Hostess Life turned silently, her searching gaze on me,
And with no word she reached her hand and offered up the key.

I opened first the door of Hope, and long I lingered there;
Till I spied the Room of Dreams, just higher by a stair.

And then a door whereon the one word "Happiness" was writ;
But when I tried the little key I could not make it fit.

It turned the lock of Pleasure's room, wherein all seemed so bright,
But after I had looked a while it somehow lost its light.

And wandering down a lonely hall I came upon a room
Marked "Duty," and I entered it, to lose myself in gloom.

Along the shadowy shelves I groped my weary way about,
And found that from dull Duty's room the door of Toil led out.

It led out to another door, whereon the crimson stain
Made sullenly, against the dark, the words "The Room of Pain."

But oh, the light, the light, the light that spilled down from above!
And upward wound the stairs of faith, right to the tower of Love.

And when I came forth from that place I tried the little key,
And Lo! the door of happiness swung open wide to me.

There are people who do not buy homes because they think land is too high. Lands will go no lower, and are sure to go much higher. The enormous growth of population in the Southwest, and general prosperity, is sure to bring higher prices, and the man who wishes to buy a home had best buy quickly. No more land is being made, and new people are coming, and more being born.

If you were fed on one article of diet continually you would soon get very tired of it. So with the hens and roosters, for they must have variety to do well.

When your turn comes, remember that they never knock a dead one.

About Our Good Advertising

There are three kinds of advertisers in our Tropic-Glendale circle that are particularly interesting to note.

First there is the man who rushes into the Sentinel office early on Monday morning to reserve a page space for his weekly ad in order to be sure to receive the best of accommodations and so as not to forget that he is really in business. If you will turn the sheet over you will see who is in this class.

Then there is the other extreme, the man whom the newspaper representative calls on only once a month (for he is so disheartened at this lunar call that were he to make it quarterly he would be obliged to carry an antidote in his vest pocket), when he is told by the old fossil, leaning on a dusty and time-worn counter: "I've done business right here for the last twelve years without advertising, and I expect to continue in the same way." For such a poor, deluded mortal any advertising man could only feel pangs of sympathy. Why, he should have been born in the mediaeval times and buried before printing was invented.

Then there is the third class who came here with some real, earnest desire to be business men and who are earning their daily bread by the sweat of their brows, but are not piling up the cash profits as rapidly as they had anticipated. One man says it is due to the fact that the fellow across the street cuts prices so low that there's nothing in it. Another complains because the manufacturer cannot furnish him the goods fast enough so that he really has any occasion for advertising. A third one has a pet advertising scheme all of his own, entirely different from the universally accepted one, that of the newspaper, by reason of which he hopes to reap abundant harvests. But the most common of all is the complaint that the purchaser goes to the city to do his buying and hence it does not pay to advertise. Is it any wonder that the purchaser goes to the city when every time that he picks up the morning paper there are several one or two-page ads staring him in the face in louder lettering than that accorded the last "white slave" case? He can read it all without his spectacles, and the promises are all of EXCEPTIONAL VALUES! He has deliberately perused his local paper, has thought of a number of things he needed to buy, but as his friend, the merchant, has said nothing about it in the paper, he has come to the conclusion that it's not carried in stock.

Now, we feel that it is more the merchants' fault than the shoppers' that the trade goes to the city. If you want the people of Tropic-Glendale to trade at home you must not forget to tell them in a systematic and business-like way that you have the goods at prices that are fair and that you are in a position to accommodate them.

TOW TO MAKE DWARF TREES.

How gardeners manage to grow miniature pines, firs, and oaks in flower-pots for half a century has always been more or less of a secret. It is the result chiefly of skillful, long-continued, root-pruning. They aim first and last at the seat of vigorous growth, endeavoring to weaken it just as far as possible without destroying the life of the tree.
They begin with the young plant, say a seedling of a cedar or hemlock, when only two or three inches high, and cut off its tap-roots as soon as it has other rootlets enough to live upon, and replant it in a shallow earthen pot or pan.

The end of the tap-root is generally made to rest on the bottom of the pan, or on a flat stone within it. Alluvial clay is then put into the pot, much of it in bits the size of beans, and just enough in kind and quantity to furnish a scanty nourishment to the plant. Just enough of water light and heat is given to keep it alive, but not enough to excite a vigorous habit. Gardeners usually pride themselves on the shape of their miniature trees, and they use strings, wires and pegs, and various other mechanical devices, to promote symmetry of habit, or to fashion their pots into odd fancy figures. Thus, by using very shallow pots, the development of the tap-roots is impossible, and by using poor soil and little of it, and little water, rapid growth is prevented. Then, too, the top and side roots, which are within easy reach of the gardener, are shortened by means of a pruning knife, or are seared with a hot iron. In this manner the little tree is headed off on every side and is allowed to grow just enough to live and look healthy.
Accordingly, each new set of leaves becomes more and more stunted, the buds and rootlets are diminished in proportion, and at length a balance is established between every part of the tree, making it a dwarf in all respects. In some species this end is reached in three or four years, while in others ten or fifteen years are required.

SALAD DRESSING.

2 tablespoons sugar,
1 tablespoon flour,
1 teaspoon dry mustard,
1 teaspoon salt.
Mix these together well.
1 tablespoon butter; cream in.
2 yolks of eggs, beaten.
1 cup milk.
1-3 cup vinegar.
Boil slowly, stirring constantly till it thickens.
